

Parker's Strip Club, Camden 2019

5 reviews on TripAdvisor paint a damning picture of this strip club. Of course, they cannot be verified, but 5 separate reviews by individuals who are not even trying to hide their names must surely raise concerns. The individuals could also easily be contacted. What's more, a judge has already ruled that anonymous information such as this can be used by Councils as 'hearsay' information in licensing decisions ¹. Evidence is not even needed in a licensing hearing in order to refuse a strip club license.

However, Camden council decided to relicense this venue, satisfied with club's protestations that such reviews could not possibly be valid as individuals would have contacted the police, not posted on TripAdvisor.

When asked by the Council why the club wasn't checking its reviews on social media, club management responded that it didn't advertise. They also stated that it only has 10 customers on quiet nights, 40 on a busy one. Men apparently pay just to see women on stage 'like sexy silhouettes' or 'go go dancers'. Private dances are 2 foot away from customers and club management were appalled when asked if women were bending over. It becomes hard to imagine how this club is making any more at all.

Dodgy Place

Was leaving a bar when me and my girlfriend were talked into this place. Said it was a strip club. 20 pound each to get in! Had to buy a drink first to see the girls. Then the private dance was probably the best part about this place but she wasn't even that good. Not that it bothered me at the time. 20 pound for a dance. Had 4 dances. And because i was paying by card that meant i pay 100 pound instead of 80.. Then when we went to leave they forced us to pay the "doormen" extra money to get out. Would definitely not go back.

Dude advertising this place in Leicester square took us on a 20 minute walk trying to convince us it was a gentleman's club despite us not wanting to go. We then bumped into the owner who was throwing free admissions after we were told it was a £20 cover charge. All in all their tactics screamed desperation and no matter how many times we said no they wouldn't leave us alone nor stop following us. Honestly thought we were being lured into a mugging the whole way.

Begging for your money, break their own rules. Pushy and forceful, the girls swear at you and tell you to leave if you show any disinterest. Paper on the table says no touching from either party and they touch you inappropriately before you get in. Barely feels legal and highly uncomfortable
